Vicious murderer 'no danger to the public'

EXCLUSIVE

AN INVESTIGATION will be held into the care of a depressed murderer assessed as not a danger to the public hours before he smashed his victim's head 13 times with a hammer.

An independent inquiry will scrutinise an NHS Trust's treatment of David Clairmonte, who bludgeoned to death 69-year-old Fred Hodsdon after he was mentally assessed at Luton & Dunstable Hospital earlier that day.

Luton on Sunday has also uncovered a secret report exposing numerous problems with the Trust's contact with Clairmonte, who in January was jailed for life for murdering Mr Hodsdon at his bungalow in Vespers Close, Luton.

On June 25 last year a health professional assessed 26-year-old Clairmonte, who was accompanied to his L&D appointment by his concerned aunt, and concluded he was not a danger to anyone and offered a voluntary three-day stay at a psychiatric unit.

But this was turned down by Clairmonte who, hours later, went to Mr Hodsdon's home, bound his hands together with electricians' tape and led him from room to room in a hammer attack which left his skull 'like a broken porcelain egg' - all for his PIN number as he was short of money.

VICTIM: Fred Hodsdon

MURDERER: David Clairmonte

Under the Freedom of Information (FOI) Act, LoS has obtained a report of the Trust's internal investigation into its treatment of Clairmonte, who slit his wrists days before the murder and was prone to bouts of depression.

Issues highlighted in the report included:

- Clinicians not realising Clairmonte had been in contact with South Essex Partnership University NHS Foundation Trust (SEPT) some months earlier as they 'had not read a GP referral letter carefully enough'

- Notes from this first contact not being read as these were not on the Trust's electronic database, so clinicians 'erroneously thought he was being assessed for the first time'

- Some information in the first assessment not being considered 'which may have raised concerns about risks to others'

- 'Ambiguous' feedback 'leading to confusion' for Clairmonte and his aunt regarding the assessment outcome

- The offer to Clairmonte of admission to a voluntary three-day psychiatric unit being construed as 'forceful' and lacking 'sensitivity'

- The treatment team's bid to cancel the assessment appointment by phone before Clairmonte and his aunt arrived

- One employee saying the care team was 'short-staffed' and had a 'heavy workload', although interviews with staff members who assessed Clairmonte 'indicate that the team worked well together and felt clinically and managerially well supported'

LoS's copy of the report - half of which has been 'blackout' on the grounds of Clairmonte's medical confidentiality - does not explain SEPT's conclusion that the murder 'could not have been predicted or prevented', although improvement recommendations were made, along with points of 'additional learning' for the Trust.

Following a case review, a spokesman for supervising authority NHS Midlands and East said: "We will be commissioning an independent company to undertake an independent investigation into the care and treatment of David Clairmonte."

"Once the investigation is commissioned and completed a report detailing its findings will be published."

In a statement SEPT said: "This individual was found guilty of murder by a criminal court jury."

"For this crime, he has been sentenced to imprisonment for a minimum of 30 years before he can be considered for release. The murder was described in court as a savage attack on an elderly and vulnerable man for financial gain to pay off debts."

Missing parrot Sumo

Parrot lost in burglary

A HEARTBROKEN pet owner is appealing for the return of his African grey parrot who was lost during a burglary.

Sumo was either snatched or flew out during the break-in at Kes Odedra's home in Sundon Park Road, Luton, between Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr Odedra, 30, said he was distraught by the loss of the 15-year-old pet.

He said: "Sumo was staying at my parents' house as my landlord in London doesn't allow pets. "These type of parrots are quite expensive - mine cost £750 all those years ago - so I worry that he was been taken to be sold on. I've put up posters and spoken to all of the neighbours in the hope that we can find him."

Anyone with information is urged to contact DC Martin Hart, in confidence, on 01582 473358, or Bedfordshire Police on 101, or text information to 07786 200011.

Second suspect in Delaney murder case

A 16-YEAR-OLD has been arrested on suspicion of the murder of teenager Delaney Brown.

The suspect was taken into custody on Wednesday afternoon and was released later the same day on conditional police bail and bailed pending further enquiries.

He is the second suspect Bedfordshire Police officers have spoken to.

Officers from the Major Crime Unit continue to seek witnesses and information on the murder of 19-year-old Delaney who was killed in Vincent Road, Luton, on September 5 when he was struck by a silver BMW 1 series.

Efforts are also continuing to trace a young woman with two children who was pushing a buggy along Vincent Road at the time of the incident.

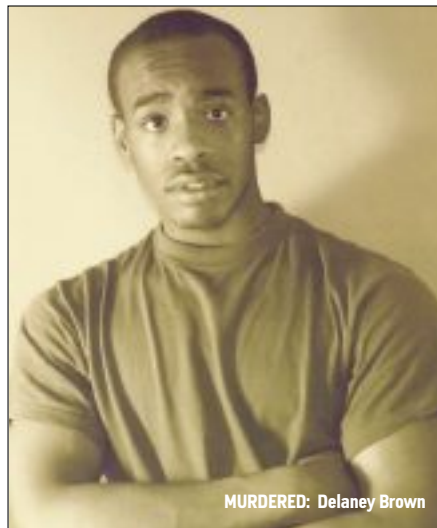

Police enquiries have established that on hearing the collision she ran to help, possibly speaking on the phone to paramedics, as opposed to walking in the opposite direction which had been previously suggested.

Detective Chief Inspector Steve Collin said: "We are making real progress with this case but I still need people to come forward and put what they know down on paper."

"People clearly have information about who was driving the silver BMW that was used to kill Delaney, they now need to do the right thing and speak to the police."

Anyone with information should call the Bedfordshire Police Incident Room on 01707 355666, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111 – this is a completely confidential service, run by a charity and you don't have to give your name.

MURDERED: Delaney Brown

Murderer deemed 'not dangerous'

From Front page:

'During the trial, the court had full access to mental health records and heard evidence from independent psychiatric experts to help them come to their conclusions.'

'In this case, it was acknowledged that contact with mental health services played no part whatsoever in the murder.'

'In addition, the Judge pointed out in his sentencing remarks that many people suffer from depression but do not commit murder.'

'This supports the finding of our internal review, carried out as a matter of routine, which concluded that the homicide could not have been predicted or prevented.'

'The non-contributory issues in the report are general learning opportunities. Non-contributory issues are routinely included in this type of report as part of health service learning and, in this case, they had no bearing whatsoever on the murder.'

The L&D said it was 'not able to comment on this case'.

Racist threat to kill police

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A TEENAGER who was arrested for fighting subjected police officers to a barrage of racial abuse – and threatened to shoot them.

Jordan James, 18, called an Asian officer a 'p*** c***' after threatening to shoot him and his colleague 'with a shotgun' in Luton town centre.

He pleaded guilty to using threatening and abusive words of behaviour with intent to cause fear or provoke unlawful violence, and using racially aggravated harassment, alarm or distress by words at Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday.

The court heard that the police was heard how James, of Norton Road, Luton, had first come into contact with the police after being seen to throw punches in a fight in the town centre on the evening of August 27.

As officers arrested him he began to shout 'F*** the police, f***** pigs,' before claiming that he would 'go and get a shotgun and shoot you all'.

James was put into the rear seats of the police van as another person was being detained in the back, but the abuse continued.

Directed at an Asian officer, he shouted: "P*** c***, I hate you all," and branded his colleague a 'white b*****'.

The case has been adjourned while a pre-sentence report is prepared.

James will next appear at Luton Magistrates' Court on October 12.

This case was heard during the same week when policing across the country was brought into sharp focus by the fatal shootings of WPCs Fiona Bone and Nicola Hughes in Manchester, and Cabinet Minister Andrew Mitchell's apology to police officers in Downing Street who had allegedly been on the receiving end of his foul-mouthed tirade.

Ward crowned Euro champion

A LUTON man has lifted the title of Europe's Strongest Man.

James Ward, 27, of Clydesdale Road, beat 11 others in the under-90kg category last Saturday.

The strongman, who works and trains at Gym 1 in Leagrave Road, competed in 12 tasks including dragging lorries and lifting atlas stones to beat Ireland's reigning under-90kg champion Shay Ryan.

Mr Ward said: "I'm delighted to have won this award. I have been competing in strongman events throughout the country for a number of years, but this was my first European competition."

"Each and every one of the men that took part are serious athletes and any one of them could have won."

"Looking to the future, I will definitely be back next year to defend my title, but will also continue to work and train with a view to taking part in strongman competitions throughout the world."

Lack of demand hits business park firm

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A DEVELOPMENT firm behind Butterfield Business Park is in administration – because there is no demand from companies to use it.

Easter Investments Butterfield Limited (EIBL), which develops the 85-acre business park in Great Marlings, Luton, owes around £9.2 million to Dunbar Bank.

The business park opened in 2007 and had been heralded as a shining light for the town and houses companies such as The Royal Bank of Scotland and the University of Bedfordshire.

Luton Borough Council's corporate director of environment and regeneration, Colin Chick, once said 'the advent of Butterfield will help Luton towards its ambition of becoming a high technology centre, capable of attracting international attention and acting as a magnet for inward investment'.

But earlier this year, the Easter Group – of which EIBL is a part – went into administration, with accountancy firm PKF appointed as administrators for the Butterfield site.

James Money, of PKF said: "There has been no change since the company went into administration."

"It doesn't make a difference for the tenants there [or the council] and we want to ensure we can get as many high quality tenants as possible so we can pay back the debt owed to Dunbar."

"Like most property developers, Easter Investments borrowed a lot of money for development and unfortunately, the demand just isn't there anymore."

A brochure made by Easter said that further development at the site would offer 1.1 million square feet of office space alongside a creche and leisure facilities. However, it is not known what will happen to these plans.

Luton Borough Council is a minority shareholder in a company that owns the land at Butterfield and had contracted EIBL to develop it.

Robin Porter, the council's corporate director for commercial and transformation services, said: "We have been aware of the situation for a while and know that Easter has gone into administration."

"We have strong aspirations to see the site developed and are going to work with our partners to find a new developer for the remaining land at the site."

Roland Lee, a director Easter, refused to comment, saying instead 'the situation is being handled by PFK.'

New Uni halls 'state-of-art'

THE University of Bedfordshire officially opened its brand new state-of-the-art student accommodation earlier this week.

Wenlock Court, in Manor Road, Luton, was jointly opened in a ceremony on Tuesday by the university's new vice-chancellor Bill Rammell, Luton South MP Gavin Shaker, Syd Knight, the Mayor of Luton, and student union representatives.

The halls of residence comprises 274 en-suite rooms and is part of a wider £180m investment in infrastructure at the institution.

Mr Rammell said: "Wenlock Court is the latest phase in the university's commitment to invest in the latest student facilities, a key part in ensuring we provide our students with the best possible university experience."

"This fantastic new complex

means the university can accommodate more than 1,800 students just within Luton.

"All these exciting new developments will continue to place Bedfordshire in a leading position to provide our students with the most advanced teaching and accommodation facilities of

There is also a private courtyard between the three blocks.

Crash woman off the road for good

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A DRIVER who crashed her partner's car persuaded a friend to return to the scene and take the blame – but eventually came clean when the friend was put into the back of a police van.

Gabriele Saltenye, 21, of Kingsway, Luton, drove her boyfriend's silver BMW, without a driving licence or insurance after being out for the evening and deciding that he was too drunk to drive home.

As she made her way into Kingsway at 2am on September 1, she lost control of the vehicle after taking the corner too widely.

The BMW collided with a private hire car and mounted the pavement before striking a hedge.

After checking the driver of the other vehicle was okay she went to collect some documents from her property.

During this time she bumped into a female friend and asked if she would be prepared to say it was in fact her that was driving the car at the time of the incident, as she feared what would happen to her.

The friend agreed and returned to the scene of the crash and was put in the back of a police van. It was at this point Saltenye decided that things were getting too serious and owned up to being the driver.

She pleaded guilty to obstructing a constable in execution of duty, driving a vehicle without due care and attention, driving without insurance and driving without a licence at Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday.

After receiving her sentence, Saltenye said: "I've learnt my lesson, I'll never drive again."

She was disqualified from driving for nine months and fined a total of £393.

Hotel application banking on expansion

A PLANNING application has been submitted to build a six-storey hotel near Luton Airport.

The proposals for Airport Way have been entered on behalf of PPHE Hotels, which is seeking to open a Park Plaza Hotel, principally aimed at plane passengers. If approved, the hotel would comprise of 152 bedrooms, a bar, restaurant, gym and conference facilities together with car parking.

The planning statement makes reference to the current airport expansion plans being debated.

It states: "Given the expected increase in annual passenger numbers from 11.5 million to 18 million, the additional hotel bedrooms will help to meet a growing demand for bed spaces."

Cop candidate gives voters another choice

IN November this year, the whole of Bedfordshire will be voting for a new Police and Crime Commissioner, who will take over from the present police authority, and will be accountable for how crime is tackled. The Liberal Democrats have chosen their prospective candidate, Linda Jack, who speaks with LAUREN ARCHALL.

BORN and bred in Luton, Linda Jack has had a very varied and interesting career.

At 17 she joined the army as an analyst in special intelligence, serving in Germany and Northern Ireland, before training to become a teacher and working in the town.

Later she went into full time youth work, supporting projects in both Luton and Bedford, and then became Youth Policy Adviser at the Financial Services Authority.

Liberal Democrat Linda is no stranger to politics either, having stood as borough councillor in the Putnoe ward of Bedford for five years, before standing in the 2005 General Election as the candidate for Luton North, and in 2010 as the candidate for Mid Bedfordshire.

So why has she now put herself forward for the role of Police and Crime Commissioner?

Linda said: "People need a choice. We have a Labour party candidate and a Conservative candidate, I felt that we needed a Liberal Democrat so that if people wanted to vote that way they could."

What does she think she can bring to the job?

Linda said: "This will be a listening role – listening to people's concerns and worries and trying to find a solution and giving them a voice.

"I like problem solving and trying to find a different way of doing things when they aren't working."

"I'm a good talker, and hope that I'll be able to persuade different agencies, like the council and the NHS, to get involved in communication so that we can work together to help prevent crime."

"Bedfordshire Police are doing a lot of things right, but there are also things that need to be improved. The war on drugs, for example, isn't working.

"We need to admit that it isn't working and look for an alternative approach."

"I might not have the experience of being a police officer, but I am able to learn and look at things objectively."

But what does she think about budget cuts and privatisation?

"I'm totally against outsourcing," she said. "I've seen the effect that privatisation has had over the years in my role as branch secretary at Unison."

"My fear is that it completely won't work, and it will end costing more of the very money that is meant to be saving. I will be opposing any sorts of plans for outsourcing."

"The same goes for any further budget cuts – I am against them too."

"Bedfordshire Police have already had to cut back far enough, any more would be dangerous."

"I hope that whoever gets this role, regardless of party political allegiances will fight against cuts and privatisation."

Best of Luton hotting up – so get those nominations in soon

THE Luton's Best Awards are preparing for the third year of recognising the stars in the community.

This year we know that we will once again need to choose from many top quality and worthy nominations to pick our winners for 2012. So how do previous winners feel about receiving this award?

Community Company of the year is always a hard fought category with many excellent nominations.

The 2011 winner was Noah Enterprise, an organisation that helps homeless and disadvantaged people in Luton off the street and back to work.

"The Luton's Best Award gave recognition of NOAH's contribution to the Community and also highlighted the value of social businesses for the benefit of those on the margins of society," said chief executive Jim O'Connor. "It was seen by those who use our services, our volunteers and staff as an award to be proud of."

Luton's Best is also about thanking those who help us to have fun, enjoy ourselves and inspire us through sport, the arts, leisure, culture and heritage.

Last year team BEDS&LUTON Get Back Into Programme took the Leisure and Culture Award. Director Lloyd Conaway was delighted that this innovative project won this category.

He said: "We work in partnership with many sport clubs and associations to encourage adults of any age to revisit a sport that they used to do or try a new one. The Luton's Best Award was a real boost to our teams and the many people who have worked hard to make this programme an on-going success."

Luton is fortunate to have many community projects that make a valuable contribution to the town. Shirley Taylor of the Lewsey Community Mural Project, which won the award for Community Project last year, said: "Winning the Luton's Best Award was the icing on the cake for us."

"This project was such a success in the community with residents of all ages getting involved and it was wonderful for this award to give them and all the Staff from the various schools all the recognition it deserved."

"Community Projects can have a real positive impact and awards like Luton's Best gives them a special thank you."

The Luton's Best Awards aren't just for residents but also for the many people who live outside the town but nevertheless have a positive impact. More than 40 per cent of Luton's workforce live in the surrounding areas of Bedfordshire.

This year there are 17 award categories:

If you know of an individual or business that you think deserves one of these prestigious awards it is easy to nominate online at www.luton.gov.uk/lutonsbestawards until October 1.

Shortlisted nominees will be invited to the glittering awards evening at The Luton Hoo Hotel on Thursday, November 29, made possible by the support of local sponsors and backed by Luton on Sunday and the LD Express.

All nominators will be entered into a free prize draw to win two tickets to the ceremony.

For more information about all of the categories and full entry criteria visit the website or contact Sinead McNamara on 01582 546265, email sinead.mcnamara@luton.gov.uk

The Luton's Best Awards are non-profit making and financed through private sponsorship.

Two faces on planning

SIR - I read with interest (Luton on Sunday, September 16) that Luton Borough Council is concerned about Central Bedfordshire Council's plans to build 28,000 new homes, some of which would be just outside the borough boundary.

It is reported that Luton Council has asked for assurances that the green land will be maintained and enhanced.

Is that not a bit rich coming from a council that has a policy of building on every available piece of grass that they can get their hands on?

They should consider their own track record first before preaching to others what they should and should not do.

Robin Kedge
Highover Close, Luton

Medical scam in town

SIR - I have written in the past to warn readers about the scam of European City Guide, which claimed to be an official business guide but actually targeted small businesses with huge charges.

Another similar scam is targeting medical practitioners and medical related businesses in the UK.

A company claiming to publish a medical directory entitled TEMDI (The European Medical Directory) is writing to medical practitioners asking them to sign a form confirming details for listing within the directory.

Once this form is returned (after a slight delay) those who have signed it receive an unsolicited bill for £1,300 pa for inclusion in the directory.

They are then advised that as the ten-day 'cooling off period' has passed, the contract is therefore legally binding.

These letters can be extremely threatening.

The European Commission is looking at new laws regarding cross border scams of this nature.

In the meantime I urge caution to any business owner, or professional if you are contacted regarding any form of European directory or guide.

I would advise you not to sign any paperwork, unless you are absolutely certain that the publication is genuine.

Nothing plane at airport

SIR - I was sitting in my dining room on Friday, September 14. It was 6.09pm. Suddenly, I heard screaming jet engines. I jumped up, went into the garden, to see an easyjet plane flying over.

It was about 200ft off the ground. Its engines at full throttle trying to get some height. What was it doing flying so low?

This is why I don't want Luton Airport to expand. I don't want a jet crash landing on my home.

Target the tippers we know about

SIR - So Luton Borough Council claims to be proactive when it comes to prosecuting flytippers and wants residents to call them as soon as possible if they see anyone flytipping.

What the council doesn't mention is that residents shouldn't bother if the flytippers happen to be travellers or gypsies who dump rubbish wherever they set up camp.

These people don't hide their anti-social activities so it shouldn't be that hard to identify individuals, yet the council does nothing except pick up the bill for the clean-up operation when the travellers have moved on to set up a new encampment on yet another town park.

So why does the council exempt these people from prosecution while it is prepared to prosecute everyone else?

Maybe the council's view is that it would be a breach of the travellers' human rights if they were stopped from dumping rubbish.

The truth is that there are two types of people who live in this town - those who are bound by the law and the travellers who are above the law.

I for one think that stinks just like their rubbish.

Jeff Morgan
Rylands Heath, Luton

Meanwhile, Barnfield College has axed its application to build on the playing fields in New Bedford Road. I don't believe them.

Protesters were up in arms when Luton Airport wanted to expand. One minute the airport said no, we are not expanding.

The protesters went away. The next minute, the plans were all drawn up. Yes, Luton Airport is expanding.

I believe they will build on the playing field. They don't care what people think. You should know that by now.

Disabled winner's £50k

SIR - I am calling for talented disabled business people to apply for this year's Stelios Award for Disabled Entrepreneurs in the UK, run in partnership with Leonard Cheshire Disability.

The award recognises the achievements of disabled entrepreneurs and offers the largest cash prize of its kind - £50,000 - for future business development. This year's winner will be presented with a cheque at a special ceremony in London on December 3.

We want to hear from talented disabled people who are able to show they have got what it takes to run a successful business and meet a real need in the market.

The previous winners of this award offer proof that there are many highly talented disabled entrepreneurs out there. But with around 50 per cent of disabled adults out of work, it is clear that there still is a long way to go.

Removing the barriers disabled people face in business is essential, and I hope that this award will highlight their achievements and create new opportunities.

People have until 5pm on Friday, October 26 to apply for the award - visit www.lcdisability.org/stelios

Stamps will help many

SIR - With recycling being an important subject these days, I thought your readers might like to hear about Canine Partners, a charity that is asking people to collect their used stamps which can then be turned into funds to help train more dogs for people with disabilities.

It doesn't cost anything, and anyone can help. All kinds of stamps are welcome, on or off paper.

You need to leave no more than a 5mm single thickness border around them, and the perforations should not be damaged.

Any commemorative or special stamps should be sent, or handed over, separately.

Collected stamps can be dropped off at one of the charity's 13 puppy satellite centres all across the UK.

The contact details are at www.caninepartners.org.uk

Alternatively you can send the stamps direct to the address below (please ensure the correct postage is paid when sending them).

Keep the flame burning

SIR - Help us keep the Paralympic flame burning.

A little while ago, in the wake of the wonderful Paralympics, I urged your readers not to forget about the many challenges facing people with disabilities in their daily lives. They confront their own personal hurdles each and every day, and their quiet heroics in overcoming adversity get scant recognition.

I work for Vitalise, a charity that provides desperately-needed respite breaks for people with disabilities and those who care for them. We've seen at first hand the incredible obstacles they have to overcome and the toll it can take on their lives.

Thanks to the Paralympics, people with disabilities have never had such a high profile and so much goodwill from society. But that feeling can't last forever, so we've come up with something to celebrate the achievements of people with disabilities and keep the Paralympic spirit alive.

We've made an amazing video, performed by our disabled guests and volunteers, set to the inspiring 'Don't Stop Me Now' by Queen. It celebrates the indomitable spirit of people with disabilities and pays tribute to the Paralympic heroes of Team GB.

It's already had more than 10,000 hits on YouTube and I hope your readers will find it uplifting and inspiring. It certainly put a smile on our faces.

I'd like to invite your readers to view our video and, for the sake of all people with disabilities, help us keep the Paralympic flame burning a little longer in our hearts. You can view the video on our website www.vitalise.org.uk

■ Flytippers costing taxpayers as much as the 'Love Luton' festival! Still it's only taxpayers' money, not the councillors' money, so plenty more where that came from!

Pirates head for Ed

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carlmungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

SINGER and songwriter Ed Sheeran's music is the most illegally downloaded artist in Luton, it was revealed this week.

Data collected by music monitoring firm MusiMetric put hip-hop artist Rick Ross as the second artist whose music is most shared in the town.

A feature on the BBC's website earlier this week allowed users to search for which musician's music was most pirated in their area by entering their postcode or town/city of residence.

Sheeran's material is shared 19 times more in the town than the national average.

However, different Luton postcode searches showed that Frank Ocean and Adele were also popular choices for internet users.

The research also revealed that, nationally, more than 40 million singles and albums had been illegally shared by UK users in the first half of 2012. Since the explosion of file sharing sites such as BitTorrent and Pirate Bay, record companies have complained about the damage illegal downloads do to the music industry.

Geoff Taylor, the chief executive of the British Phonographic Industry, the UK's music industry body, told the BBC: "According to data, there are more illegal downloads in the UK still than there are legal purchases. A lot of people are getting very rich from stealing other people's things."

"That's wrong, and we think that musicians deserve to be paid for what they do, just like everyone else."

Student beaten by gang for £2

A TEENAGER suffered bad bruising to his body and face and lost several teeth during an unprovoked assault that saw the attackers leave with £2.

The 17-year-old student was approached by a group of youths at the junction of Brunswick Street and Back Street in High Town, Luton, at 5.15pm on Monday.

A girl from the group then claimed to know him and when the victim tried to escape, they caught up with him and began punching and kicking the victim to the ground. One of the attackers then stole the £2 that fell out of the student's pocket and the group fled.

Anyone with information about this crime can contact PC Chris Baldwin at Bedfordshire Police on 101.

Should education system be focusing on skills we all lack?

It came as no shock to me to learn this week that more than 44 per cent of adults in the UK cannot assemble flat-pack furniture.

For years I have been quietly ashamed that the so-called easy-to-follow instructions have left me baffled and panic-stricken. I have spent hours surrounded by piles of MDF and chipboard, bags of screws, allen keys and PVA glue attempting to create an object that at least bears a passing resemblance to the picture on the box – and failing dismally.

But undeterred I have persevered resulting in many memorable attempts. My best was undoubtedly what the family referred to as 'The leaning wardrobe of Kempston'. A pine construction complete with drawers that leaned at a most precarious angle and wobbled outrageously when the doors (which were hanging off) were opened. I refused to let it be dismantled and would occasionally attempt to hang a shirt in it, the maximum weight that it could withstand. When we moved house the removal firm made the mistake of attempting to lift it and that was the end of that.

My garden shed suffered a similar fate and collapsed under the weight of a light rain shower.

Unable to any longer endure the fury and contempt of the present Mrs Lowe I conceded defeat and brought in the man from IKEA. It was awe-inspiring.

Chairs, tables, chests of drawers and wardrobes were erected at an amazing speed. Most can still withstand the impact of a small explosion – this is the career of the future.

So I suggest that flat-pack furniture should be made a part of today's curriculum. Small children can start with a basic drawer. For GCSE level maybe a table and chairs – A level, a chest of drawers.

There is no reason to stop there with universities offering BA (Hons) in Flat Pack

Construction, concentrating on wardrobes and fitted kitchens.

If Michael Gove has his way then my Flat Pack qualifications will literally fall apart, like the furniture I built, as the said education 'guru' has now decided that we take a retro step back to the days of the 'O' Level where your education rests on a few hours in an exam room and the ability to regurgitate as much as possible in that time.

He wants our youngsters' minds once more packed with facts and has obviously not yet heard of Google. I digress.

The irony is that I would be much more likely to pass an exam that is heavy on theory. GCSE Flat Pack Construction would revert to a practical against the clock and a theory paper – 'How useful is the phrase 'you don't want to do it like that' when making flat pack furniture' – discuss.

ONE of the less savoury aspects of Government cuts is the way they sneak up on everyone. We are not suffering out-in-the-open cuts, which at least tells it straight and gives people a proper chance to prepare, but cuts made behind closed doors that often only appear at the last moment, like robbers hiding in dark recesses, waiting to pounce. A friend of mine on tax credit only found out it had been cut after it had been cut.

My mortgage is about to go up, despite interest rates remaining the same, because of some Government change.

And last week people who run nursery schools were told the funding would be cut in April, during the school year. Cuts, if cuts we must have, should be better planned and more clearly expounded. So at least we can prepare for the worst.

Bags thief hid tag remover inside bra

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN attempted to steal handbags from TK Maxx by using a device to remove security tags that she kept in her bra.

Ms Lindiwe Mutede, 42, of Russell Street, Luton, pleaded guilty to theft from a shop to the value of £299, after appearing at Luton Magistrates' Court on Wednesday.

The court heard that Mutede had entered the shop in The Mall on June 14 with a man and a child.

A CCTV operator saw her pick up a brown leather handbag before retrieving a de-tagging device from her bra to remove the security tag.

She then handed the bag to the man, before repeating the same process with a second brown leather bag.

As they attempted to leave the store the man was stopped by a security guard, who recovered the items, which included an additional bag and a pair of shoes, while Mutede fled.

She was stopped by a security guard outside the shop and arrested for her part in the attempted theft.

Mutede had initially pleaded not guilty with the case scheduled to go to trial before deciding to change her plea.

Defence solicitor Richard Bayliss said: "It has been difficult trying to explain to the defendant that while she did not try and leave the store with the goods in her possession, her actions were contribution to attempted theft, and we have discussed this at great length."

"This accounts for her previous not guilty plea. Despite this, the goods were of relatively low cost and were all recovered."

Mutede was fined a total of £325, which included £200 costs and a victim surcharge.

A spokeswoman for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service explained that you do not need to have left a store with an item to be guilty of theft.

Students receive world record certificate

Students set world record

AN online gaming college entered the record books last weekend as they completed a 48-hour game jam.

The 299 students studying with Train2Game, based in Collingdon Street, Luton, worked with Microsoft to create mobile games for its new operating system, Windows 8.

The session took place at the University of Bedfordshire last week and was the largest game jam to take place in a single location.

Students were awake for the whole 48 hours to complete their games – more than 20 of which were produced and submitted for review to the Windows Store.

An adjudicator from Guinness World Records handed students a certificate on the final day.

Let's all steal scrap metal! Or on the other hand, let's not!

So what's going on in the world of scrap metal today? Well business as usual really.

Is there an epidemic of scrap metal fever sweeping the nation? Answer NO!

Scrap metal has been brought and sold for centuries although as a company Simply Recycling Solutions Ltd has been in the business for around 20 years, was there less metal being stolen a few years ago or is it just the frenzied media attack on the business that has brought things to light.

We all understand that if you rip up BT cable your internet and telephone lines will go down, if you pull up miles and miles of copper cable from the railway lines you won't be able to get into work. This harms the economy of the country and cost's millions for material to be replaced. The local plumber roofer or electrician is not responsible. More like the individuals who don't work so no tax paid and just seem to fill their days helping the Police with their enquires and hindering local business and households by being on the constant scrounge. So let's ban "cash for scrap" does anyone actually believe that this will stop scrap metal theft? Well it won't, while metal has a value it will be stolen.

Pop in and see how the professionals buy scrap metal, oh and also clothes.

Saving 'strugglers'

IN APRIL 2011, 7,097 children from the east of England were fed by a 'Foodbank'.

This April that number had risen to 8,045.

Just two weeks ago the first foodbank in Dunstable was opened, becoming part of the Trussell Trust's UK-wide network.

With four distribution centres based around the town, the foodbank hopes to help those individuals and families in need through the provision of emergency food supplies.

Chairman of the Dunstable Foodbank Trust, Alan Sutton, explained: "We provide food and support to local people in crisis.

"In the current economic climate the most unexpected people are struggling through no fault of their own.

"A redundancy, an unexpected bill or a delay in receiving benefit could all leave a family unable to put meals on the table for themselves and their children.

"We are a short term solution, and supply food for a period of nine days.

"They way it works is that front-line agencies, for example social services, GPs or the JobCentre Plus, will hand out a voucher for the foodbank if they feel an individual or family are really struggling and in need of our help.

"They then come to us at one of our centres, where they receive a food parcel proportionate to the amount of people they need to feed, which will serve them for three days.

"If they are still in financial difficulty after that, they can come back a further two times to collect additional parcels."

All provisions supplied to the foodbank are donated, and they rely solely on volunteers to sort and pack the parcels and distribute them.

Alan added: "Everyone has been so generous with their support since we opened.

"We have 20 churches in the area supporting us with collections of food, and local schools and Brownie groups have also been in touch to see how they can help. We held our first collection in Asda last weekend, where we gave customers a shopping list as they entered the store and asked if they could buy a few of the items during their weekly shop and donate them to us as they left.

"We collected more than we had ever done before, but we've got to be able to sustain it to keep it running.

"However, we are always looking for more volunteers who can spend their time sorting and packing the boxes, and sponsors who could help with our running costs."

Peter Meadows, operations manager of Dunstable Foodbank, said: "It is truly horrifying and extremely sad that we need foodbanks in the 21st century.

"But we have looked at the increasing demand nationally, and believe it is there in Dunstable.

"I think it's important to note that we don't judge. Outside agencies have decided to give out the voucher, we simply provide the food parcel and some support."

The distribution centres are based at West Street Baptist Church in West Street, New Life Church in Houghton Road, St Augustine's Church in Oakwood Avenue and St George's Church in Station Road in Toddington.

For more information about the foodbank, or to volunteer, your services, call Alan Sutton on 01582 248410.

ADVERTORIAL

FASHION THE FUTURE FOR YOU.

H&M is all about bringing the catwalk closer to our customers. So, here's some good news: we're opening two brand new stores right on your doorstep – one in the £56m stadium:mk retail park and one in The Mall Luton. Good news for fashion lovers, great news for people who want to grow their career with us. Just ask some of our team.

HASS joined H&M as a part-time Sales Advisor while he was studying, and went full-time after graduating. Six months later he was a Trainee Floor Manager, and in just over three years the 25-year-old became Store Manager.

He says: "I've managed to make my own success story. And I'm nowhere near finished yet. I always had a plan to progress. You have support all around you here. There are so many opportunities, wherever you look. No one will spoon-feed you, but they'll always back you.

"The thing is, H&M doesn't expect you to be perfect. You're allowed to make mistakes, but the main thing they want is people who'll address them properly. That's how you grow.

"As for the future, I'd like to manage one of the bigger stores. Maybe in central London. I want to show the world what I can do."

AIMEE is a 27-year-old Store Manager. She started at H&M as a part-time Sales Advisor while she was studying, soon becoming Weekend Supervisor. And after going full-time she took just three years to progress to where she is today.

She says: "When I first joined, I didn't think I'd stay with H&M. But I've simply never wanted to leave. And I could never work for another retailer now. Nowhere else has the same buzzy atmosphere. And they really believe in you here.

"If you're hungry enough for it, they'll give you all the tools you need to tailor-make your career. And there are so many chances and opportunities to take – promotion can come incredibly fast. If H&M see something in you, they'll play to your strengths and move heaven and earth to make sure you're using your talents in the best way.

"As for where I'll end up, there are so many opportunities on offer that I honestly can't pinpoint just one."

CIARAN started in Ireland as a Sales Advisor in 2005. The 26-year-old is now a Visual Merchandiser, and his plans don't stop there.

He says: "I worked for eight months as a Sales Advisor and then got the Trainee Visual role. As H&M is rapidly expanding I kept up pace. And now I help with the development of visual teams all over Ireland.

"H&M are amazing to their staff. I've always felt like an essential part of a creative team. As for me, I'm working my way toward Visual Manager. With the support of my colleagues I'll get there. It's what H&M is all about."

MARTA swapped Poland for Ireland six years ago. She struggled to find a job that sparked her enthusiasm and rewarded her ambition. That all changed when she joined us as a Sales Advisor. Within two years the 26-year-old was a fully trained manager and she now heads up her own department.

She says: "From the start there were lots of opportunities to develop my skills and loads of responsibility, which I love. I always knew I wanted to work somewhere I could stay and progress, and that's what I've found.

"We want the company to grow so we can grow with it. But it's not just about financial results. It's also the good we do – such as our campaigns for WaterAid, AIDS charities, and more sustainable cotton around the world. It's something to be proud of."

"Having worked here for just a little while, I already know this is where I'm going to stay. The best thing is you get to be your own person. You don't need a work face. And everyone is great at giving honest, straightforward feedback, so it takes no time to develop and grow.

"When you're offered progression it's not an empty promise. And because of that I can look new starters in the eye and say 'Look at how it's been for me. It can be this way for you too.' Everyone has the chance to style their career the way they want, which makes it an incredibly upbeat, positive place to work."

NATALIE started her career at H&M as Ladieswear Floor Manager. She hasn't been here long, yet the 28-year-old is already a Store Manager.

She says: "I had experience with three other retailers, but something was missing. I wanted to move here because they have better benefits, a better structure and they treat their people really well.

hm.com/jobs

WE'RE HERE

We've got over 200 stores in the UK and we have big plans for the future, with more openings this year and next. We're always busy here, and we love it.

There's always something exciting going on too – like our collaborations with Maison Margiela and Anna Dello Russo, or our ambitious sustainability work – and you can be a part of it.

SO WHERE ARE YOU?

It doesn't matter where you're from or where you're at. We're just interested in where you're heading.

And it's likely that'll be far indeed. Especially if you recognise in yourself some of the qualities above. With vacancies ranging from Sales Advisors and Visual Merchandisers, to Store Management roles, get in touch and see where a career with H&M can take you.

Buckle: Defence made it far too easy for them

FOOTBALL

LUTON Town manager Paul Buckle pulled no punches after his side's heavy 4-1 defeat at Grimsby Town on Friday night.

The Hatters chief was less than impressed with the performance of his centre halves, who failed to get to grips with the Mariners all evening.

He said: "We've not made them work hard enough for the victory and our centre halves haven't dealt with balls into the box."

"Three of their goals have come from crosses into the area, which you would expect your defenders to deal with, and we just have not done that."

"We know that Andy Cook and Ross Hannah are good players but we've made it too easy for them."

In contrast, Buckle felt his side were also a constant threat going forward, praising home stopper James McKeown, who denied Scott Rendell in the 33rd minute.

"We've created chances every time we have gone forward and I am pleased with the front lads," said Buckle.

"Scott has worked hard all night and eventually got his goal, but their 'keeper has pulled off a great save in the first half and, had we gone to 1-1 at that stage, then who knows?"

Buckle also felt aggrieved at Grimsby's second goal, which looked like handball from striker Cook, while promising changes for the trip to Tamworth on Tuesday.

He added: "There was definitely a hand in there for Cook's goal but I'm not going to stand here and make excuses for my team."

"We have good spirit in the dressing room but we will look at things at the back for Tuesday's game."

Meanwhile, Buckle was left lamenting Luton's injury crisis, revealing that some players are still a long way from returning to match action.

He did confirm however that Jake Howells has recovered from a head injury against Wrexham that required him to go to hospital. The midfielder

Every child who comes into foster care is different.

There is no 'typical' child we place. Many have faced extreme difficulties. Some are from minority ethnic populations. Some have a range of special needs or display challenging behaviour. Some are in sibling groups which need to stay together wherever possible. All are looking for safe, caring homes with people like you.

From drivers to café workers to engineers, we help all sorts of people become foster carers, supporting them to transform the lives of the most vulnerable and neglected children and young people.

Fostering myths busted!

With over a quarter of people considering fostering, but almost 60 per cent mistakenly thinking they're not eligible, we want to bust the myths and tackle the many reasons people don't come forward:

- ▶ I don't think I'm the right age
- ▶ I'm male
- ▶ I'm gay
- ▶ I don't own my own home
- ▶ I don't have any children
- ▶ I'm single
- ▶ I haven't worked with children or young people
- ▶ I don't think they recruit carers from my ethnicity
- ▶ I can't afford to give up work
- ▶ 24-hour support

Why choose Action for Children?

We value our foster carers very highly. Our friendly team will support you, so you can support young people to grow with hope and confidence. We are an experienced UK children's charity who put children at the centre of everything we do. We offer:

- ▶ 24-hour support
- ▶ continuous training and development
- ▶ careful matching
- ▶ regular paid breaks when you need them
- ▶ competitive allowances and fees
- ▶ support groups and social events

Children and young people in your area need foster homes

Could you give children and young people the care and support they need to thrive? If you can offer a safe and caring home, we'll give you excellent training, competitive fees (up to £420 per week), regular planned breaks and 24-hour support. We want to hear from you!

Providing Quality Through Opportunity

GETTING a paid-for short story published in book form is high-on impossible these days. Most publishers simply do not take them.

A modern day alternative is submission to a website called Alfie Dog which actually pays a percentage, roughly half per download. Submission is easily made through email.

University of Bedfordshire creative writing student and former Luton on Sunday journalist CLIVE GRESSWELL, who lives near Stockwood Park, in Luton, has just had his first paid-for work published on Alfie Dog and it is now available for download on the site. Hogg, a Beckett-style experiment, tells the tragic-comedic story of a mentally-ill tramp called Hogg who cannot tell the difference between reality and his illusions.

Tragic tramp's tale in need of a twist

WAITING for Godot is generally acclaimed by those who know about such things, to be one of the greatest plays ever written.

That doesn't stop it being a mystery to most people – either because it's high on impossible to understand what the writer, Samuel Beckett, is getting at or, more often, because although lots of people have heard of it, far fewer have either seen it or read it.

In his first online published work, Hogg, Clive Gresswell has drawn inspiration from both Beckett's style of absurdist writing and his choice of character.

Just as Vladimir and Estragon, the main characters in Godot, are 'gentlemen of the road', so Hogg is a rootless tramp. It's probably not PC to call a homeless man that nowadays but Hogg is a self-confessed smelly, lice-ridden bum on a downward spiral.

He is also, like so many drifters and dossers, mentally unstable and hopelessly wretched. And life is about to get even worse for him as the new rules regarding benefit claimants kick in. Hogg is deemed fit to work, so work he must, but his grasp of reality is tenuous and although he is eager to fill the job vacancy he is sent up for, he doesn't quite get the subtleties of the interview situation.

Gresswell writes colourfully and well. Hogg's story, though desperately sad, is compelling reading. You may not want to know what it's like to have to live rough, to suffer from paranoid delusions and to be cruelly treated, but Gresswell's imagery and character portrayal is as sharp as it is painfully accurate – as far as I can tell. I don't ever want to find out for real.

But this kind of online project, albeit paid-for, respectable and not the ghastly 'vanity publishing' that so many wannabe writers credit themselves with, still has its drawbacks.

The lack of an editor, in this case, means that Gresswell's story is overlong and fails to adhere to that most basic of satisfying short story rules – there should be some sort of twist or revelation to the ending.

Hogg's tragedy, like that of Samuel Beckett's Godot characters, is that life, in all its relentlessly unhinged consistency, just goes on and on and on. Until, presumably, it doesn't.

£4.9m council bid to shake up travel

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A NEW £4.9m project that aims to raise public awareness about the variety of travel options available to them has been launched.

Central Bedfordshire Council has set up Travel Choices, a three-year scheme funded by the Government's Local Sustainable Transport Fund, which will focus on Dunstable, Houghton Regis and Leighton Buzzard.

The project aims to make people think more about their journeys and whether using a car is always necessary.

It also hopes to improve access to employment by using sustainable modes of transport, reduce the impact of commuting trips on communities, and maximise the opportunities for training and education for those without access to a car.

Personal journey planners will visit more than

WELCOMING PLANS: Councillor Nigel Young

8,000 households in the area over the following months to offer information on the travel options available.

The advisors will be equipped with all local knowledge required to help put together individual travel plans to suit people's needs.

Businesses and community groups will also be contacted, to see how they can benefit and hopefully improve their services.

With information about cycling, walking and buses, residents and businesses could benefit from the project by saving money on petrol, making more time-efficient journey choices and improving their long-term health at the same time.

Welcoming the project, Councillor Nigel Young said: "Along with other schemes that are under development such as the Busway, the A5-M1 link and the Woodside connection, the money from this fund will play a key part in tackling congestion and regenerating Dunstable and Houghton Regis."

"By reducing congestion and offering better options for travel, we will improve access to jobs and education."

After the launch, council chairman Councillor Angela Barker said: "If we are all honest, taking the car isn't always necessary."

"If it isn't that far, why not walk?"

"It's, free easy and you can see more of our lovely area."

Fears children don't get free school meals

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.lutononsunday.co.uk

PARENTS are being reminded to check whether their children are entitled to free school meals amid fears that many are missing out.

Residents in Luton claiming benefits including income support, income-based Job Seekers' Allowance, or support from the National Asylum Support Service, may be eligible to claim the free lunches for their children.

Those who qualify for the meals will automatically get school clothing assistance worth £25 per child, per year.

Luton Borough councillor Waheed Akbar, executive member with responsibility for children's services, said: "School meals are a fantastic way of guaranteeing children are eating a nutritious, tasty and well-balanced meal during the day.

"Research suggests a healthy school meal may improve concentration levels which ultimately will help pupils achieve better results.

"There is such a thing as a free lunch, so don't miss out, please do check if your child is eligible.

"You will also be helping the school they attend to receive extra Government funding as they will receive £600 for every pupil that applies and qualifies for free school meals. For your school to receive this, your child must be registered by October 4."

Financial assistance which could help towards paying for meals may also be available for those attending a college or, in some cases, in independent training.

The Government scheme, called the 16-19 Bursary Fund, is intended to support young people to stay in education with up to £1,200 per year.

To qualify for the scheme the young person must either be in receipt of income support, be in care, be a care leaver.

Benefits cheat to pay back £58,000

Woman sentenced to six months in prison for false claims

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A FRAUDSTER has been sentenced to six months in prison after falsely claiming benefits totalling more than £58,000.

Christina Winchester, 54, of Drury Lane, Houghton Regis, pleaded guilty to knowingly failing to report to Central Bedfordshire Council and the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) that she had started work in April 2003.

Taking a job affected her entitlement to housing benefit and council tax benefit from the council, and she also received overpayments of £35,400.32 from the DWP.

Winchester will also have to repay the £18,771.54 housing benefit and £4,506.60 council tax benefit she received unlawfully, as well as full repayments to the DWP.

Cllr Richard Wenham, deputy executive member for corporate resources, said: "Benefits cheats take money away from those people who really need it."

"This investigation with the DWP clearly shows that we will not tolerate abuse of the benefits system and will take appropriate action against those who do try to make a fraudulent claim."

"While we take a hard line against anyone who falsely claims benefits, help is always available for people who are genuinely entitled to receive financial aid."

"Our confidential fraud hotline – 0300 3005557 – is open 24 hours a day, for anyone who suspects someone might be claiming benefits fraudulently."

"Any residents who want information about paying their council tax or to find out whether they are eligible for council tax or housing benefit can call our Money and Benefits Helpline on 0300 3008306."

Clean bill of health for treatment service

COMMUNITY healthcare services received a clean bill of health and praise during a watchdog review.

In last month's routine inspection at Luton's Treatment Centre, in Vestry Close, the Care Quality Commission found services met all the essential standards of quality and safety that were inspected.

The services reviewed included clinics for tissue viability, diabetes, respiratory, phlebology, deep vein thrombosis and anticoagulation.

Mandy Renton, chief nurse at Cambridgeshire Community

NHS Trust which delivers the service, said: "During the review patients reported our clinic staff as friendly and helpful."

"They were very happy with the care and treatment offered, and they were involved in the planning of their care."

Police riders make debut in top event

BEDFORDSHIRE Police will be entering a team into a prestigious equestrian event for the first time in the force's history.

The riders will be heading to the Uniformed Services Show Jumping Competition, which is organised each year by the Light Cavalry, on October 27 at the King's Troop Royal Horse Artillery, Woolwich, London.

A team of four – police inspector Tracey Day, PC Hayley Robinson, detention officer Andrea Cartwright and detention officer Steve Harris – were chosen after a selection process based on the performance of the riders and their horses during a trial held in August, alongside a written record of each competitor's recent achievements.

They are backed up by reserves for the team – PCSO Carla Michalik and investigation officer Nicola Owen.

Police Inspector Tracey Day, who is based at Greyfriars Police Station, said: "This is the first time that Bedfordshire Police has got together an equestrian team for competition.

"My colleagues and I spend many hours practising and competing as individuals in our spare time and I hope that our commitment to our chosen sport will enable us to represent

CHAMPING AT THE BIT: Police team that will compete in prestigious London event

Bedfordshire Police successfully.

"This will be the second time that I have been able to compete in police uniform and I am proud to do so. I also hope this will open the door to other uniformed services mounted competitions that are available, and that this one, will be the first of many.

"My thanks go to those who have helped provide support to the team including proprietors of the College Equestrian Centre, Simon and Patsy Bates, and also Martin Wilkinson Master Saddlers who have designed and donated team saddlecloths for the day and for future police competitions."

The Bedfordshire Police team will be competing in class one, which is the Equimax team show jumping competition for the Richard Edmonston-Low Challenge cup.

At Manshead School we work together with students and the home to be 'in search of personal excellence'. We provide an environment in which students will develop and gain the skills and qualifications they will need to meet the challenges of a quickly changing world.

Our personalised curriculum allows all students to achieve well in their examinations. In 2012 83% of students gained 5 GCSE passes at C or above and our superb A level results make us the top school in the area. Every year our students progress to top universities to continue their studies. In 2012 5 students were successful in applying to Oxford and Cambridge.

We hope that prospective parents will be able to attend our open evening and open day to see the school in action and the excellent facilities available to students.

Open Evening will be held on Wednesday 3rd October from 6.30 - 9pm. This is an opportunity for prospective students and their parents to take a guided tour of the school, meet a range of subject staff and current students, talk to Governors and hear a presentation from the Headteacher and students. Presentations will be held at 6.30, 6.50 and 7.10 giving plenty of time to tour the school. There is no need to book for open evening.

Open Day will be held on Thursday 4th October at 9am with tours at 9:10 and 11:30 and is a chance to look around school whilst it is in action. There will be a brief talk before students take small groups of prospective parents and their children around the site. There will be a chance to speak to the Headteacher and other members of the Leadership Team at the end of the tour.

MP hails 'breath of fresh air' over jobs

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN MP visited a workshop to help the young unemployed get into the food industry as part of a national scheme.

Luton South Labour representative Gavin Shuker visited The Co-operative Food in Biscot Road, Luton, where he met the company's workshop leader and around 12 jobless people taking part in a training session.

Youth unemployment in the town has risen sharply since the beginning of 2011, and the business was backing 'Feeding Britain's Future - Skills for Work Week' helping people prepare for the workplace and introducing them to the various roles within food retail and manufacture.

The young people received training in the skills they need to help them secure jobs, such as creating a CV and interview techniques, as well as learning more about the different types of jobs in food retail and what they entail.

Mr Shuker said: "Youth unemployment has rocketed in Luton over the last 18 months. When talking about future prospects, I find more and more young people telling me that they have little confidence when they face the highly competitive job market.

VISIT: MP Gavin Shuker

"The approach which The Co-operative is taking is a breath of fresh air for people who want that first step on the career ladder.

"We have got many talents within our town, and with The Co-operative committed to developing a range of skills and offering many career options for our young people, we can only benefit immensely from their initiative.

"I hope we see more businesses here in Luton taking note of the Skills for Work programme."

Peter Marks, chief executive of The Co-operative Group, said: "With youth unemployment escalating to more than one million, businesses have a real responsibility to tackle the issue.

"We all have a part to play, and by supporting this initiative and investing in young people today, we can help provide them with the confidence and knowledge to make the most of the employment opportunities that are out there, helping to create a talented workforce for the future."

Feeding Britain's Future - Skills for Work Week is designed by food and grocery experts, IGD, to bring together businesses from the entire food and grocery industry.

LEGEND: Pauline Black

Pauline & Gaps back in fashion

WHAT'S ON

THE SELECTER WITH PAULINE BLACK & GAPS HENDRICKSON

UK Centre for Carnival Arts, Luton
Friday, October 5, 7.30pm

LEGENDARY two-tone original singing duo Pauline Black and Gaps 'De Killa' Hendrickson reunite to play classic hits such as On My Radio, Three Minute Hero and Too Much Pressure alongside new cuts from their new album Made in Britain.

The Selecter pioneered the ska revival movement alongside label mates The Specials and Madness, and were responsible for some of the scene's classic hits.

Pauline Black, the group's iconic frontwoman, is reverently referred to as the first rudegirl of ska, with Rolling Stone Magazine declaring that "Pauline Black possessed the best voice that ever graced a 2-Tone release".

Made In Britain explores the multicultural landscape of today's Britain and beyond.

With its mix of ska, pop and reggae in their inimitable style, it reflects the social and political issues confronting Britain's new multicultural society in 2011.

Tickets priced at £15 and can be bought online via www.seetickets.com or at the UK Centre for Carnival Arts box office on 01582 437111.

HUMOUR

SMUTTY SONGS!

The Alban Arena, St Albans
Today, 8pm

AMATEUR Transplants frontman Adam Kay has packed up his piano, a case of vintage wine and is bringing his own unique brand of smutty songs to The Alban Arena.

In the ten years since Adam began performing, Amateur Transplants have developed a fanbase the size of which most comedians would happily sell their kidneys for.

With sell-out tours and Edinburgh Fringe seasons his cutting-edge, darkly humorous re-imaginings of modern day pop and rock classics have gained him a cult following across the UK.

The iconic London Underground Song has been in the iTunes comedy top ten continuously since 2008 and has become an internet phenomenon with more than seven million hits. This show is probably not suitable for your elderly maiden aunt.

Tickets cost £16 and you can order them by calling the box office on 01727 844488.

MUSIC

50 YEARS OF CLASSIC MOTOWN

The Alban Arena, St Albans
Friday, 8pm

BE taken back to the classics of the golden years with Motown & Philadelphia on Tour when it returns to the Alban Arena.

It spans the hits of The Ojays, The Tramps, Billy Paul, Candi Stanton, MFSB, The Stylistics to mention but a few of those memorable Philly acts, together with the sounds of Detroit and old favourites such as The Four Tops, Supremes, The Temptations, Marvin Gaye, Boys 2 Men and The Drifters, along with educated information on the era between the songs.

This is an all-action show with the Greatest Hits Of All Time you will just love, so be prepared to dance in front of your seats.

See Johnny's epic work created with the people

PERFORMANCE

JOHNNY PARRY'S CONCERTO MAGNIFICENT: AN ANTHOLOGY OF ALL THINGS

Bedford Corn Exchange
Thursday, September 27, 7.30pm

BEDFORD Creative Arts brought together a big-hearted army of people to develop a new suite of songs with Bedford-based composer Johnny Parry.

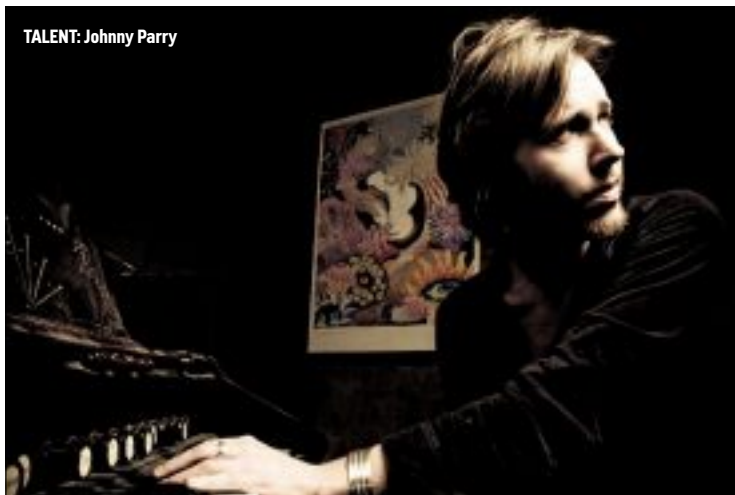

Johnny worked with the people of Bedfordshire to collect lyrics within the universal themes of Love, Death, Childhood and Religion.

He then brought together a new community choir who have been rehearsing these new songs throughout the summer. The choir, with Johnny and orchestral backing, will present this work in an all-consuming spectacle.

Johnny Parry is a composer who creates operatic contemporary music for orchestra and voice.

His own Chamber Orchestra released their new album 'Fields & Birds & Things' in April 2012.

This one-off performance is a chance to see the culmination of five months' worth of work composed by one of Bedfordshire's most talented young musicians, working in collaboration with members of the public.

Tickets cost £5 in advance from www.bedfordcornexchange.co.uk, the box office on 01234 269519, or at the events page at www.bedfordcreativearts.org.uk

CHOICE

Duncan Bannatyne

Dragons' Den BBC2, 9pm

Children's ride-on suitcases, Trunkis have become a success since their invention by Rob Law a few years ago. However, Law's novel idea didn't exactly get off to great start when it was rejected by the Dragons in 2006 after Theo Paphitis broke one of the straps. However, for every Trunki, the Dragons can boast several successes, including Levi Roots' Reggae Reggae sauce, Rapstrap and iTeddy. This is perhaps why two Mancunian sisters who, like Law, were rejected when they appeared back in 2005 are looking for a second chance to impress.

His biting, satirical, political and hilarious verse delivered in his rapid-fire performance style will have the crowd transfixed as one of Britain's best loved poets and performers takes to The Alban Arena's Stage!

Continuing to write new work from his Colchester home, he regularly performs live all over the UK & Ireland including recent radio appearances on Radio 4.

There is no bigger accolade and platitude of his work than having 3 of his poems published in the GCSE syllabus, including the remarkable Twat.

He is studied by many A Level students and his poetry is prolific within the UK and Irish Union. He will be forever ingrained in the psyche of Britain's new youth.

John Cooper Clarke is the only 'punk poet' you'll ever see, you won't find any modern day lyricist like him.....

HELP FOR BUYERS FROM LAGAN HOMES AT SHEFFORD

Lagan Homes is offering a range of incentives to help people buy at their superb new development in Shefford, a lively, friendly market town in the heart of the Bedfordshire countryside.

'As an independently owned company, Lagan Homes is able to offer home buyers a more personal and people-focussed service than a lot of the larger PLC housebuilders,' says Daniel Gray of selling agent Connells. 'They know that 'one size doesn't fit all' which is why they provide a variety of schemes to suit individual circumstances.'

For those struggling to raise a large deposit Lagan offers two different proposals. 'Through the Government backed NewBuy scheme purchasers may be able to buy a new Lagan home with a 95% mortgage, with Lagan Homes and the Government jointly acting as guarantor for the mortgage company. Alternatively Lagan Equity Assist allows purchasers to pay 90% of the agreed price of a new home while Lagan Homes lends them the remaining 10% with no rent or interest payable for up to 10 years.

Purchasers who have a home to sell haven't been forgotten either. 'Those wishing to buy one of the larger four bedroom detached houses could take advantage of Lagan Homes Part Exchange. 'This takes away the worry of having to find a buyer and the uncertainty of being caught up in a chain which could break down at any time,' explains Daniel Gray. 'After getting two valuations from estate agents, Lagan Homes will make an offer for your property. Once that's agreed, you can reserve your new Lagan home and leave the rest to them.'

For those who prefer a more hands on approach to the sale, there is Assisted Move, whereby Lagan Homes will deal directly with a chosen estate agent to help sell the existing home quickly, easily and for the best price.

There are currently a variety of homes available at Lagan Homes Shefford development ranging from two bedroom starter homes and a three bedroom semi up to four bedroom townhouses and a superb four bedroom detached house. Prices start at £147,500.

To find out more about availability and the terms and conditions of the various schemes to help you buy, call 01462 816 496 or visit the sales office and show home which is open daily from 10am to 5pm at Ivel Road, Shefford, SG17 5LG.

Central Bedfordshire Council Code of Data Matching Practice

Central Bedfordshire

Central Bedfordshire Council is required by law to protect the public funds it administers. It may share information provided to it with other bodies responsible for auditing or administering public funds, in order to prevent and detect fraud.

The Audit Commission appoints the auditor to audit the accounts of this authority. It is also responsible for carrying out data matching exercises.

Data matching involves comparing computer records held by one body against other computer records held by the same or another body to see how far they match. This is usually personal information. Computerised data matching allows potentially fraudulent claims and payments to be identified. Where a match is found it may indicate that there is an inconsistency which requires further investigation. No assumption can be made as to whether there is fraud, error or other explanation until an investigation is carried out.

The Audit Commission currently requires us to participate in a data matching exercise to assist in the prevention and detection of fraud. We are required to provide particular sets of data to the Audit Commission for matching for each exercise, and these are set out in the Audit Commission's guidance, which can be found at www.audit-commission.gov.uk/nfi

The use of data by the Audit Commission in a data matching exercise is carried out with statutory authority under its powers in Part 2A of the Audit Commission Act 1998. It does not require the consent of the individuals concerned under the Data Protection Act 1998.

Data matching by the Audit Commission is subject to a Code of Practice. This may be found at <http://www.audit-commission.gov.uk/nfi/pages/codeofdatamatchingpractice.aspx>

For further information on the Audit Commission's legal powers and the reasons why it matches particular information, see <http://www.audit-commission.gov.uk/fairprocessing>

GENRE BENDER

Medium Summarywordcount: 291
Nissan would like you to see this car as a cross between 4x4 and sports car, a macho alternative to a supermini for youthful urban motorists, roomy yet compact, robust yet dynamic and practical yet playful. The Juke is certainly all of these things. True, it won't appeal to everyone but that's because it isn't supposed to. If you love it, you'll really love it. But even if the opposite is true, you have to admire Nissan for having the courage to do something different. Very different.

The Juke really does drive as its looks suggest it should. Which is just as well given that the top version, the car tested here, has a 1.6-litre turbocharged DiG-T petrol engine developing a potent 190PS, good for rest to sixty in just 8.0s on the way to 134mph. But the majority of Juke models are sold with less frantic powerplants - either a 117PS 1.6-litre petrol version with the same torque as the turbo or a 110PS 1.5-litre dCi diesel, both capable of rest to sixty in around 11s on the way to about 110mph.

At a stroke, it makes other supposedly 'funky' small cars - the Kia Soul, the Toyota Urban Cruiser, even the MINI - look rather dull and compromised. Here at last is SUV-like style for the small car sector without any SUV-like compromises, precisely the same trick the company's bigger Qashqai model pulled off in targeting bigger family-sized models in the larger market segment above. It's an approach that's worked once more here and one that will doubtless be much-copied, just as the Qashqai was. But this is the original. And if you're either young, or young at heart, I can see why you may also think it be the best.

Forward-thinking Paul

TAKE THAT: Jake Robinson
lets fly against Grimsby

CONFERENCE PREMIER GRIMSBY TOWN 4 LUTON TOWN 1

PAUL Buckle's great seaside adventure collapsed like a sodden sandcastle during Friday's miserable trip to Blundell Park.

The Hatters boss named a swashbuckling side featuring all four star strikers in a bid to halt the club's recent dip in form.

But it was the Mariners who coasted to victory and extended Luton's winless run to three games as they leap-frogged them in the table.

First half strikes by Joe Colbeck, Andy Cook and Ross Hannah put the hosts in command and Scott Rendell's late effort was scant consolation after Dean Beckwith had headed into his own net to put the result beyond doubt.

Buckle was looking for improvements from his side's previous away outing – a 3-0 loss at Alfreton Town – and he named all four of his star strikers, Rendell, Andre Gray, Stuart Fleetwood and Jon Shaw in an adventurous starting XI.

But it was the home side, buoyed by new loan signings Scott Neilson from Crawley and Ross Hannah from Bradford, who looked a threat every time they came forward.

Rendell had the first effort on goal for Town in the sixth minute, when he was played in by Fleetwood, but the former Wycombe striker pulled his shot wide of James McKeown's goal.

And, from their first attack, the Mariners took the lead on eight minutes. Midfielder Derek Niven cut inside and crossed for Cook to flick on for Hannah. Mark Tyler did superbly to keep the ball out but he could do nothing as Colbeck prodded home the rebound.

Despite their attacking prowess, the Hatters were having a hard time breaking down a resolute Grimsby – JJ O'Donnell and Fleetwood being restricted to long-range efforts – the former curling a lovely left footer just over the crossbar.

A tough challenge for Mariners' skipper Craig Disley on Jake Howells brought about the game's only booking as the half hour ticked by and that seemed to spur Town into life; a superb reflex save from McKeown stopping Rendell from levelling matters with a close-range header in the 33rd-minute.

The hosts responded well and doubled their lead five minutes before the break. Nathan Pond headed Aswad Thomas' cross against the crossbar and Cook followed up with a diving header, although there was a suspicion of handball from the former Barrow man.

And Luton barely had time to catch their breath as Hannah latched on to a long ball and breezed past Beckwith before slotting low beyond Tyler to make it 3-0 on 43 minutes. The Hatters' stopper then did brilliantly to keep out an acrobatic Pond effort, as Grimsby threatened to run riot.

It was an uphill task for Buckle's men in the second half and they weren't helped when Beckwith capped a night to forget by heading into his own net from a Wood free-kick on 71 minutes.

Rendell responded by bundling in a consolation five minutes later, after McKeown had fumbled a Howells shot from the left, but the home side could have had more as earlier Cook hit the bar and Tyler denied Colbeck, before the Hatters' keeper kept out substitute Dayle Southwell late on.

Grimsby: McKeown; Wood, Thomas, Pearson, Pond; Colbeck, Disley, Niven, Neilson (Artus 73); Cook, Hannah (Southwell 81). Subs not used: Hatton, Miller, Elding

Luton: Tyler; Beckwith, Kovacs (Essam 46), Henry (Kasim 57), Howells; Lawless, O'Donnell; Shaw, Rendell, Fleetwood (Robinson 65), Gray. Subs not used: Rowe-Turner, Walker.

Dunstable Legget back home for replay

FA CUP 2ND QUALIFYING ROUND

NORTHWOOD 1 AFC DUNSTABLE 1

AFC had BJ Christie and goalkeeper Sam Legget to thank as they came back to force a replay.

Northwood took charge early on and led in the sixth minute from a corner.

The visitors, seemingly overawed by the cup tie atmosphere, began to settle and created several chances.

They were given a helping hand on 35 minutes as the referee showed a straight red card and Northwood were forced to play the remainder of the match with ten men.

The extra player told in the second half. Christie equalised with a fine strike from the edge of the box on 75 minutes after being set up by Garth Harnamann.

Northwood were given an opportunity to win with five minutes left when they were awarded a penalty. But Legget saved to force a replay on Wednesday night.

EVOSTICK DIVISION ONE CENTRAL

GUILDFORD TOWN 4 BARTON ROVERS 2

BARTON were again left rueing spurned chances and defensive frailties as they failed to convert a strong performance into a win.

Despite dominating much of the game, Rovers trailed 2-0 at half time and Guildford extended their lead to three goals just after the restart.

Rovers got back into the match with Ricky Case scoring on 53 minutes and Rhys Hoeness a minute later.

Barton continued to press for an equaliser, creating several chances, but an injury time penalty from Dan Moody wrapped up the points.

SML PREMIER DIVISION

TRING ATHLETIC 1 DUNSTABLE TOWN 1

DUNSTABLE remain unbeaten but a defensive error in stoppage time cost them two points from a game they dominated. Chris Francis had given them a deserved lead just before half time with a stunning, acrobatic bicycle kick.

The second half saw Dunstable continue to press and create a series of chances which went begging.

They were left regretting the missed opportunities when Bradley Wilkinson capitalised on an error by Shane Wood deep into injury time.

SML DIVISION ONE

CRAWLEY GREEN 6 KENTISH TOWN 0

VINNIE Shrieves scored a splendid hat trick for Crawley Green as they took apart the visitors.

He struck in the 23rd, 45th and 53rd minutes to give them control of the game.

An own goal from Dubovecky on 61 minutes and two goals from substitute Peter O'Donnell wrapped up a fine victory.

SML DIVISION 2

WOLVERTON TOWN 0 THE 61 FC 2

A GOOD all-round performance was capped off with two late goals as 61 took the points.

The visitors were the stronger team in the first half, creating several chances without converting.

In the second half Wolverton showed signs that they could take the lead themselves and at 0-0 the game was evenly poised.

The 61 defence held solid and goals from John Frost on 75 minutes and Arthur Wallace five minutes from time sealed the victory.

SML DIVISION 2

HALE LEYS UNITED 4 TOTTERNHOE 1

A SLOW start from Totternhoe left them two goals down within 20 minutes.

They created several chances and pulled a goal back on 65 minutes through Stefan Tracey.

Totternhoe continued to press for an equaliser without success and two late break-away goals sealed it.

Buckle: Jake was blinded by early injury

■ From back page was taken off during the first half after suffering blurred vision.

But Buckle said: "Jake is going to be all right."

"He hasn't trained all week which isn't ideal as he is such a consistent performer and a big player for us."

"He sustained the injury from the kick-off, which I didn't realise."

"We had blamed Jake for the first five minutes, where Wrexham really got us, but now he's told us that it was because he couldn't see, poor lad."

"The incident had no malice in it, two players both went up to head the ball and caught Jake on the head. It was a sore one, but he's fine."

Talking about the more longer term injuries he said: "James Dance is still a bit uncomfortable with the foot. I'm not here thinking I'll have him back in the next few weeks. It's going to take a bit of time as it was such a bad injury."

"Danny Spiller is the same, and I'm hoping we can have him back in about three to four weeks."

"Garry Richards will be a lot longer. To be honest, we can forget about him for a while as he isn't going to feature any time soon."

"We've not got loads of injuries, but those we have got may take a little time."

INTERMEDIATE CUP DUNSTABLIANS 20 NUNEATON OLD EDWARDSIANS 12

DUNSTABLIANS battled through to the second round with a scrappy victory.

Two second-half tries from captain Stuart Hall and Tom Evans settled proceedings after a leisurely opening half produced only two penalties.

With Dunstablians holding a slender 6-0 half-time lead, Nuneaton reduced the deficit to a single point courtesy of an unconverted try shortly after the interval.

At 6-5, the home side then had to cope with losing a player to the sin bin but rallied to score two quick-fire tries through Hall and Evans.

Both tries were converted by Joe Murphy to hand Dunstablians a 20-5 advantage.

A late Nuneaton try gave the hosts food for thought but it was a mere consolation as they held on to keep their cup dreams alive and in the process ended Nuneaton's unbeaten start to the campaign.

Weston brace sews up victory

LONDON 1 NORTH LUTON 32 OLD HABERDASHERS 22

LUTON administered the visitors' first defeat of the season with a fine defensive and offensive display.

A superb brace from number eight, Andrew Weston in addition to tries from Tom Mahendran and Tesh Edwards was enough to spoil Haberdashers' perfect league start.

The hosts began like they were the side proudly boasting a 100 per cent winning start to the campaign.

Instead, Mark Turner's men have endured a mixed start with only one win from their first three outings.

Within ten minutes, Luton had raced into a 19-0 lead courtesy of Mahendran, Edwards and the first of Weston's two tries. First, scrum-half Mahendran went over in the opening minute of this pulsating clash after good work from Steve Ellis. However,

Aidan Kenny was unable to add the extras.

The scoreline soon became 12-0 as left-winger, Edwards drove in from the away side's 22-metre line in the fifth minute.

The shellshocked visitors could barely find a foothold in the game and found themselves further behind shortly after when Weston went under the posts.

The scoring subsided momentarily but when it resumed it was a rejuvenated Haberdashers in the ascendancy.

Having looked shambolic in the opening stages, the third-placed side clawed their way back to level by the 36th minute. Haberdashers took a 22-19 into half-time but Turner's boys emerged the hungrier.

Will Affleck tucked over a drop goal in the 53rd minute to level matters. Weston then blazed over for his second try to put Luton back in front.
